Dear Sir:

Reference is made to Bureau letter of June 11th, 1935, relating to the employment of a male typist for duty at this office from 12 o'clock midnight until 8 A. M.

I have interviewed a number of young men and the only one who has made a satisfactory showing is Mr. Charles Herbert Stanley.

Mr. Stanley is twenty-two years old, having been born on July 29th, 1912. He graduated from the North Little Rock, Arkansas High School in 1931 and finished a combined business course at Draughtons Business College September 25th, 1932. After graduation from business school this young man was employed by Mr. C. B. Erwin, Manager of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, Rector Building, Little Rock, Arkansas, October 3rd, 1932 and has been continuously employed in that office since that date.

When this office first opened, Mr. Stanley was considered for appointment as night typist. He was given a stenographic and typing test at that time, the results of which I am transmitting herewith. I find that he cannot take dictation sufficiently rapid at this time to qualify as a stenographer. He is a very good typist, is ambitious and I feel that within a very short while he will be able to qualify as a stenographer.

His father, Mr. J. W. Stanley, is a hardware merchant at Levy, Arkansas, a suburb of Little Rock. He has four brothers and two sisters and apparently their connection will in no way interfere with his duties at this office; should he be given the position of night typist.

This young man has a fair personality, but I believe he will improve in this respect in his associations here. I am satisfied that he will be attentive, diligent and loyal. I am impressed with his earnestness and sincerity and recommend his appointment.

The result of the typing test, which he took at this office today, is transmitted herewith, together with his application, to which a photograph has been annexed.

The report covering the character investigation of this applicant is also transmitted herewith.

Very truly yours,

R. L. SHIVERS,

From the oldest written records, we find that personal identification has long been in use. When no other method of identification was known, convicts and slaves were given a particular mark which plainly showed their class. A few hundred years ago the best police forces hired men with good memories who tried to remember the faces of persons charged with crimes so as to be able to recognize them later. Later on, men whose duty it was to preserve law and order began employing better methods of recognizing persons and kept files containing the pictures of thousands of criminals. The identification of such persons forms a large part of the work of preventing and reducing crime. Indeed it is not only the most important means of obtaining the arrest of these persons but it also insures the more certain and just punishment of the guilty. The man who often breaks the law and who has already been convicted of several crimes deserves more severe punishment than the beginner in crime. Only when the past records of men under trial can be fully known, however, can greater punishments be justly given. In most cases, we can not know that a man is a hardened criminal except by means of careful identification.

Never before in the history of the country has the subject of crime been more widely discussed than at the present time. The public mind is awakening to the need of checking the criminal in order that life and property may remain reasonably safe. For a long time the criminal has been encouraged by the indifference of the public to ineffective methods of investigation and prevention of crime. Not only has the criminal widened the field of his attack with great boldness and speed, but he has also organized his work to make it more efficient and profitable. If law and order are to control crime, they must deal quickly and surely with this menace. In the past the public has too often been guilty of considering the criminal a romantic figure and of making him the object of public sympathy. One of the first steps which must be taken is the creation of a sound public attitude towards crime and criminals. Upon this step largely will rest the success or failure of the attempt to reduce crime in this country to the lowest possible level. More than a change in the attitude of the public is needed to solve the problem, however, for changes both in police methods and in the law are essential. The wider use of the methods already known to the police agencies of the various countries would in itself constitute a severe blow to crime.

One of the most interesting developments of the last decade or two has been the rapid increase of interest in industrial safety. Machines were first built and placed with regard only to their productive capacity, but the adverse effect of the operation of unguarded machines, and those only partially guarded, gradually became more and more apparent as the waste of human life and limb resulting from their use attained such proportions that it demanded notice. This waste, of course, made its first appeal to the moral sense, but this was soon supplemented by a steadily increasing belief that accidents in industry have more than a human aspect--that they have such an effect upon production that they must be taken into consideration from the economic standpoint. These two considerations--humanitarian and the economic--have given great impetus to a movement to reduce accidents to the lowest number on the part of all who are concerned with them in one way or another. Many of our larger industries have made organized accident prevention work an integral part of operation. The States have by law and otherwise encouraged the creation of safer working conditions. The insurance companies have lent their influence with their insured to the attainment of the same end. The latest phase of this general effort to cope effectively with the accident problem is the movement initiated a few years ago for the development of uniform safety codes. The safety codes thus far developed are of two general classes.

It is unfortunate, perhaps, that the witnesses are divisible into classes: First, those who deal in the imported leathers under consideration, or similar merchandise, and sell them at wholesale; second, those who manufacture only shoes; third, manufacturers of domestic leathers claimed by the Government to be comparable with the leathers in question, and fourth, manufacturers of bags, pocketbooks, and novelty articles from leathers represented by the domestic exhibits. By an overwhelming preponderance of the testimony it is established that the imported leathers, as represented by the exhibits, are superior in quality and differ in design, finish, and color. The experiences and interests of the several groups of the witnesses, as above set forth, have been varied and distinct from each other, and because of these differences we feel constrained to hold that only the importers and users of the imported leathers in issue were competent to say what was the chief use of such leathers. Manifestly those who have neither bought, sold, nor used such leathers are not competent to say what their chief use is. These manufacturers of, and dealers in, leathers were clearly incompetent to testify as to the chief use of the involved imported merchandise. Gov. - be very attentive to his duties and that he is quiet and reserved and appears to be a young man who will make considerable progress in business. He is not known to be a user of liquor and Mr. Brickhouse believes him to be possessing of excellent moral character.

Mr. C. B. Erwin, local Manager of the Securities Mutual Life Insurance Company with offices on the second floor of the Rector Building, stated that he employed Herbert Stanley when the latter completed his course at Draughons Business College. Mr. Erwin is well acquainted with the parents of Stanley and states that they are fine people of moderate means who live at Levy, Arkansas, a suburb of Little Rock. Charles Herbert Stanley has done typing work and has been the cashier for Mr. Erwin for a period of about three years and has handled approximately $20,000.00 a year for the company. Mr. Erwin trusts him implicitly. He stated that Mr. Stanley is very close mouthed about the business of his company and that he is absolutely dependable and is always prompt in appearing for work. His typing is neat and accurate and he is able to take shorthand at a moderate speed. He has never been absent from his work because of any illness and Mr. Erwin is positive he is not a user of intoxicating liquor.

Mr. M. O. Reed, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, Pulaski County, at Little Rock has known Charles Herbert Stanley for a period of four or five years. He has never employed him in any capacity and, therefore, was unable to speak of his ability as a typist. He stated that he is of good personal appearance and that he, Mr. Reed, knows the parents as good substantial citizens of Levy, Arkansas.

Mrs. E. G. Gibbons, Secretary to Dr. K. W. Cosgrove, Urquhart Building, advised that Charles Herbert Stanley had to submit to an operation after his nose was broken and that he owes a small balance on same at present time. He made arrangements with Dr. Cosgrove to pay same on small instalments and he has met payments promptly. Mrs. Gibbons states that Mr. Stanley is a young man of fine appearance and she knows his relatives to be fine people.

Mr. R. O. Chinn, Manager of the Little Rock Motor Company, 400 Center Street, said that Charles Herbert Stanley purchased a 1928 Ford Sedan on May 16, of this year and that the first payment on the car in addition to the down payment which had been made, was due on the date of Agent's interview. Mr. Chinn stated he had conducted an investigation which convinced him that Mr. Stanley was a safe risk in the purchase of the car and appeared to be a young man with character.

Mr. D. H. Daugherty, National Standard Building, was out of the city, he being in Brownsville, Texas, on a business trip.

At North Little Rock, Arkansas:

Dr. John R. Raines, a dentist in the Hall Building, is acquainted with the applicant slightly and knows his parents to be fine people. Dr. Raines said that Mr. Flake Stanley, an uncle of Charles Herbert Stanley, is a member of the school board and has been for a number of years. He knows nothing derogatory to young Stanley.

Mr. C. G. Butler, a druggist at Third & Main Street, North Little Rock, Arkansas, is well acquainted with Mr. J. Walter Stanley, father of Charles Herbert Stanley and he advised that Mr. J. Walter Stanley has owned a hardware store at Levy, Arkansas, for a number of years. There has never been anything detrimental that has come to the attention of Mr. Butler concerning Charles Herbert Stanley.

Mr. Gene Burks, owner of a drug store at Levy, Arkansas, and postmaster at that place, said that Mr. J. Walter Stanley is the owner of a hardware store in Levy and that he has four sons and two daughters. The entire family has a splendid reputation according to Mr. Burks. One boy is in the Navy, one lives in Levy together with Charles Herbert Stanley, the applicant, and another brother of Charles Herbert Stanley is an X-ray Technician in a hospital at Sykesville, Maryland. Mr. Burks has lived as a neighbor of the Stanley family since Charles Herbert Stanley was a small boy and he regards him as substantial, industrious, and dependable. He believes that he can be depended upon to keep Governmental matters confidential.

Mrs. J. H. Fretwell, wife of the Mayor of Levy, Arkansas, stated that Charles Herbert Stanley has never been known to get into any kind of trouble. She has known him since he was a small boy and regards him as of neat appearance, pleasant demeanor, and possessing of ambition. Her husband has been Mayor of the small town for a number of years and she was, therefore, able to state that Charles Herbert Stanley has never been arrested in the town for any charge. Neither Herbert Stanley nor any member of his family are known to be addicted to the use of intoxicating liquory.

Mrs. E. N. Harrod, stated that she was formerly a school teacher and that Herbert Stanley was in her room in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. She was able to state his age accurately inasmuch as she has a son who was twenty-three years of age in June and she advised Agent that Herbert Stanley would be twenty-three years of age in July of this year. The Stanley family is a good christian family and no member of it has ever been in any trouble. She remembers Herbert Stanley as prompt, well behaved and industrious. She never knew him to have any serious illness.

Mr. J. H. Cooter, Principal of the North Little Rock High School, exhibited the records concerning Charles Herbert Stanley when in school and the same showed his date of birth as July 29, 1912. His father's name was given as J. W. Stanley, a hardware merchant. He entered the Junior High School in North Little Rock and then entered the high school in the fall of 1928 and received his diploma on May 29, 1931. He did not fail in any subject while in school and his grades were slightly above the average. His deportment grades showed slightly below average. When in school Charles Herbert Stanley was a member of the high school golf team. Mr. Cooter recalled Herbert Stanley as an average student and as a young man of good personal appearance. He has not had any contact with him since he left the high school and was unable to speak of his work since that time.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent W. Babcock:

Mrs. Louise Rowan, Secretary to the President of Draughons Business College, stated that she was acquainted personally with Charles Herbert Stanley. He attended this business college from January 25, 1932, to September 25, 1932, when he graduated. During this time he was absent fifteen times, two days on account of death in the family and twelve days to attend the National Guard Training Camp. He was late one day. Mrs. Rowan stated he was a slightly mischievous fellow but just a real boy. All his grades were excellent. She said he was regular about making payments on his account and for that reason she believes he is entirely trustworthy. He is ambitious and she informed she believes he would keep confidential material to himself. She had never heard of his having any trouble with his fellow pupils or teachers.

Captain Carl F. Scheibner, Commander of Battery A, 206 Coast Artillery, Arkansas National Guard, looked up the records with regard to Charles Herbert Stanley at the Armory. He first enlisted on February 1, 1932, and was continuously a member of Battery A until the summer of 1934. Due to the fact that he could not go to Camp with the outfit, he was dropped from the rolls, but subsequently re-enlisted on September 17, 1934, and is at the present time a member of Battery A. The Captain said he used to use Stanley as a Battery Clerk and for that reason believes he would make a good clerical employee. As far as the Captain knows the boy is all right morally although he is not an outstanding soldier. He was glad to recommend him. He stated he did not know of any rumors against Stanley's family.

It was learned at the Police Departments at North Little Rock and Little Rock that Charles Herbert Stanley has not been arrested for any offense.

Consider carefully these definitions, keep them in mind when rating, and compare the employee with all others in the same position for the entire service:
INFERIOR (0-59%).....EXCEPTIONALLY POOR performance of duty; EXCEPTIONALLY LACKING in qualification considered.

GOOD (85-92%).....Duty performed in an EFFICIENT MANNER; qualifications UP TO STANDARD and ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY.
EXCELLENT (93-100%).....Duty performed in HIGHLY EFFICIENT MANNER; qualified to a PREEMINENT DEGREE.

To what degree has he exhibited the following qualifications? Consider him in comparison with others in the same position for the entire service,

	GRADE	RELATIVE WEIGHT	TOTAL
KNOWLEDGE: Extent of information concerning all duties of his position; ability to analyze cases; practical application of intelligence and educational training; readiness of comprehension	83	7	581

TOTAL (divide by 20)			1660

In arriving at the above rating for an employee, consider each of the ten qualifications separately. In the column headed "Grade" give a separate rating between 0 and 100% for each qualification, as explained at the beginning of the sheet under definitions of Inferior, Unsatisfactory, Fair, Good, and Excellent. Then multiply each separate grade given in each separate qualification by the respective number indicated in the column headed "Relative Weight." Extend the figure obtained for each separate qualification into the column headed "Total." Add all the figures in the column headed "Total" and divide this sum by 20 to arrive at the final rating.

Confirming my telegram of this date, please be advised that the Little Rock Bureau office is to be closed at midnight beginning tomorrow, Saturday, January 25, 1936, in accordance with instructions issued in Bureau letter of January 21, 1936.

In accordance with telegram received from the Bureau on this date, I am transferring to the day shift Typist Herbert Stanley, and Typist Clifton Halter will be on duty at this office from 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon of each day until midnight of that day. The Bureau will be advised after a thirty day period as to whether the services of Typist Halter may be dispensed with without seriously interfering with the clerical work at this office.

I have made arrangements with both the Postal and Western Union Telegraph offices at Little Rock to communicate with me at my residence after midnight in the event they fail to make delivery of a telegram at the Little Rock office and that failing to reach me, they should then communicate by telephone with Special Agent B. L. Damron of this office who is designated to act in my absence. In the event that some emergency should take both the writer and Agent Damron away from the headquarter city, appropriate arrangements will be made with the telegraph companies covering this particular situation.

I have also arranged with the telephone company at Little Rock to transfer any long distance telephone call received after midnight, first to my residence telephone and failing to reach me there, to communicate with

Special Agent Dameron at his residence. In the event an emergency requires both of us to be absent from Little Rock at the same time, appropriate arrangements will be made with the telephone company.

For the information of the Bureau, there are no law enforcement officials in the territory covered by this office who make use of teletypewriter facilities. Therefore, no action has been taken in regard to the Bureau's request to notify such officials of the closing of the Little Rock office after midnight.

Relative to notifying sheriffs and chiefs of police and other law enforcement officials in this District as to the closing of the Little Rock office at midnight, I feel that this would not be necessary in view of the arrangements made with the telegraph and telephone companies, and in the absence of Bureau instructions, they will not be advised.

Very truly yours,

CHAPMAN FLETCHER,
Special Agent in Charge.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

P. O. Box 1469
Little Rock, Arkansas
January 23, 1936.

Director,
Federal Bureau of Investigation.
U. S. Department of Justice,

Washington, D. C.

Robert Stanley

Dear Sir:

Replying to Bureau communication of January 21, 1936, relative to economies to be effected in the entire service, you are advised that immediately there will be put into effect at this office rigid economies in accordance with the Bureau's instructions and every Agent will be made to reduce expenditures to an absolute minimum consistent with the proper functioning of this office. It is believed that the economies suggested by the Bureau can be effected and every Agent of this office is being informed of the Bureau's desire in this regard and I am sure that in the future, the Bureau will be able to see a marked decrease in the expenditures of the Little Rock office.

In accordance with the Bureau's instructions and in confirmation of my teletype message of today, please be advised that after a careful review of the clerical work of this office, I am of the opinion that at least temporarily all of the clerical employees should be retained in order that I may be afforded the opportunity of determining just what result a reduced clerical personnel would have at this office.

In my teletypewriter message, the Bureau's attention was called to the recent transfer of Stenographer August J. Miesek to the Washington field office and the fact that no Stenographer had been requested to fill this vacancy as I believed at the time of the transfer, that the clerical personnel then assigned to the Little Rock office would be sufficient to properly handle the work of the Bureau in the required time.

I do not feel, at this time, that it would be advantageous to the Bureau to dispense with the services of any of its clerical employees at the Little Rock Office and, in this connection, call attention to the fact that this personnel at the present time consists of Miss Dorothy Nease, Stenographer, who is presently assigned the duties of Chief Clerk and is, therefore, unable to take dictation other than administrative matters which are dictated to her by the Agent in Charge and is not available to the Agents for their dictation; and Miss Willie Kay Biles, who is the only Stenographer available at the present time to the Agents of this office. Recently on the occasion of the monthly conference when all of the Agents were in and required the services of a Stenographer, the entire time of Miss Biles was taken up with dictation and she was not afforded the opportunity of transcribing her notes for a period of two days which caused some of the dictation to become delinquent.

I anticipate that the Agents of this office, which now number eight in addition to the Agent in Charge, will frequently be in the office at the same time, that is, two or three of them at the same time, in which case it will be necessary for them to await their turn to dictate to Miss Biles and I, therefore, believe that there will be some delay and some occasion for the Agents to be idle at this office during the period mentioned.

May I suggest to the Bureau that it would be well to retain the services of all of the present employees and if the Bureau concurs in this suggestion, I believe that it would be well to transfer to the day shift Typist Herbert Stanley who would then be available to transcribe from dictaphone records such emergency dictation as would be necessary and the rough draft reports of the Agents sent in from the field, could then be assigned to Typist Clifton Halter who could type them during his period of night duty.

I, of course, desire to cooperate with the Bureau in every way possible and if the Bureau does not see fit to grant the above request, of course, every effort will be made to maintain the present efficiency in the clerical work of this office. However, I believe that this will be most difficult and even with extra time performed by all of the clerical employees, in many instances the clerical work of this office will be found in a most delinquent state.

As above stated, in the event the Bureau feels that the services of a clerical employee, in addition to Stenographer Micek who has been transferred, should be dispensed with, then I suggest that the Bureau dispense with the services of Typist Clifton Halter.

Very truly yours,

Chapman Fletcher,
Special Agent in Charge.

Date submitted March 31st, 1936

 Entered on duty August 27, 1935 Entered on duty this office August 27, 1935

Consider carefully these definitions, keep them in mind when rating, and compare the employee with all others in the same position for the entire service:

INFERIOR (0-59%).....EXCEPTIONALLY POOR performance of duty; EXCEPTIONALLY LACKING in qualification considered.

UNSATISFACTORY (60-74%)...Duty NOT performed AS WELL AS SHOULD BE EXPECTED; not satisfactory; DECIDEDLY below standard.

FAIR (75-84%).....Work ORDINARILY satisfactory; NOT OUTSTANDING.

GOOD (85-92%).....Duty performed in an EFFICIENT MANNER; qualifications UP TO STANDARD and ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY.

EXCELLENT (93-100%).....Duty performed in HIGHLY EFFICIENT MANNER; qualified to a PREEMINENT DEGREE.

To what degree has he exhibited the following qualifications? Consider him in comparison with others in the same position for the entire service.

	GRADE	RELATIVE WEIGHT	TOTAL
KNOWLEDGE: Extent of information concerning all duties of his position; ability to analyze cases; practical application of intelligence and educational training; readiness of comprehension...	86	7	602

(over)

In arriving at the above rating for an employee, consider each of the ten qualifications separately. In the column headed "Grade" give a separate rating between 0 and 100% for each qualification, as explained at the beginning of the sheet under definitions of Inferior, Unsatisfactory, Fair, Good, and Excellent. Then multiply each separate grade given in each separate qualification by the respective number indicated in the column headed "Relative Weight." Extend the figure obtained for each separate qualification into the column headed "Total." Add all the figures in the column headed "Total" and divide this sum by 20 to arrive at the final rating.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Stanley has been under my supervision since January 13th, 1936, during which time I have observed that he is attentive to his duties, is a good typist and has a fair knowledge of shorthand. Stanley has been attending business school during the past several months and shows a steady improvement in his ability to take dictation, he having taken dictation from me at which time I observed that he was accurate, fairly rapid and his work when transcribed was neat. Stanley has a pleasing personality, is ambitious and I believe with a little further practice will improve his shorthand to such an extent that he would be acceptable to the Bureau as a stenographer.

Stanley has indicated to me that it was his ambition to go to Washington and study law, with the hope of going up in the Bureau and being accepted as an Agent. He appears to be a good student and I believe he would have little difficulty in his study of law. I consider Stanley a perfectly satisfactory employee in his present position.

If deficiencies or disqualifications have been noted under "Remarks," have you brought them to the attention of the employee prior to the rendition of this rating? yes

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the Bureau's copy of your memorandum dated June 1, 1936, showing the addresses and telephone numbers of the employees attached to the Little Rock Office.

Upon checking the information contained therein with the Bureau records three discrepancies were noted. The Bureau records reflected incorrect addresses for Special Agent (A) P. A. Pratt and clerical employees Willie K. Biles and Charles H. Stanley.

Section 39 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations specifically states that any change in address or telephone number of an employee shall be immediately communicated to the Bureau. The necessity of the Bureau's having correct information relative to its employees would seem to be obvious. It is accordingly requested that greater care be exercised in the future in notifying the Bureau promptly regarding such matters.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover,
Director.

Reference is made to the semi-annual efficiency report submitted by you on March 31, 1936, covering Typist C. H. Stanley, wherein it is noted that Mr. Stanley is desirous of being transferred to Washington in order that he may be afforded the opportunity of attending law school.

There is a vacancy presently existing in the clerical personnel at the Seat of Government and you are requested to ascertain and advise the Bureau whether or not a transfer to Washington would be acceptable to Mr. Stanley at this time. If he accepts, you should instruct him to proceed to Washington, D. C., public business permitting, and report to Mr. W. R. Glavin, Chief Clerk, 5519 U. S. Dear Sir:

I have your communication dated June 24, 1936, wherein you recommend the transfer of Clerks Clifton D. Halter and Charles H. Stanley to the Seat of Government.

In this connection, I refer you to my letter dated June 26, 1936, wherein you were requested to advise the Bureau whether or not Mr. Stanley would accept a transfer to Washington at this time. In view of your letter dated June 24, 1936, it appears that both of the above mentioned employees have definitely indicated their desire for assignment in Washington and I have therefore issued instructions for the preparation of the necessary papers effecting their transfers. Messrs. Halter and Stanley are not to proceed to Washington until such time as you can conveniently release them from their present duties.

You are requested to advise the Bureau as soon as possible relative to the probable date these employees will depart for Washington. Each of these employees will be allowed his necessary expenses in connection with his transfer.

Dear Sir:

Replying to Bureau communication of June 20th, 1936, advising that the Bureau was desirous of securing well qualified male stenographers for duty at the Seat of Government, you are advised that none of the male employees of this office are presently qualified as stenographers, both Clifton O. Walter and Charles H. Stanley being rated as Clerks.

Both of the employees above mentioned have, during the past several weeks, taken dictation at this office for the writer, as well as the Agents and I have noted that both employees have steadily increased their speed and I feel that it will only be a matter of time before they will both be able to pass the Bureau stenographic test.

Both of these young men are graduates of Draughtons Business School in Little Rock in the combined business course, which includes shorthand and typing and I am informed that they had attained a speed of one hundred and twenty words per minute at the time they graduated - Stanley having graduated in 1932 and Walter in 1933. Since that time neither of them have devoted a great deal of time to taking dictation and during a majority of the time they have been employed by the Bureau, working at night and most of their time has been spent in typing rough draft reports.

I am very favorably impressed with both of these young men and feel that they are assets to the Bureau and that they would fit well into the picture at the Seat of Government and that each of them has possibilities. I am advised by both Stanley and Halter that it is their ambition to at some time become proficient to such a degree that they will be acceptable to the Bureau as Special Agents and each has indicated to me a desire to continue his studies. They have stated that if they could be transferred to Washington where the opportunity presented itself they would attend either a Law or Accounting School, with the view of qualifying themselves for the position of Agent.

Each of these young men has indicated to me that he desires a transfer to Washington and in the event the Bureau should have a vacancy for a Typist who will no doubt, within the period of less than one month, become proficient to such a degree that he will be able to successfully pass the Bureau's stenographic test, I believe that either or both of these young men would be acceptable in such position and recommend to the Bureau that either or both of them be transferred to Washington.

About forty species of the fresh-water clams found in this country are used in the manufacture of buttons and novelties. The commercial varieties are found chiefly in flowing waters derived from the drainage of limestone regions, including most branches of the Mississippi and some streams of the Great Lakes and Gulf drainages. These rivers contain shells which have the pearly white or iridescent lining so desirable in the manufacture of buttons. These shells are of the right thickness and size for cutting, producing pearl buttons of the highest grade extensively used to-day. The utilization of these clam shells has become an important industry involving large investments in special machinery for making buttons.

Until recently, manufacturers obtained profits from the sale of discolored and other imperfect buttons as well as from the sale of their perfect products. Now, however, serious competition has sprung up through the importation of cheap glass buttons, which are sold at such low prices that they are being widely used on cheap garments. The effect has been that most of the inexpensive pearl buttons produced in domestic plants have found no buyers; thus our manufacturers now have a market for only their finer products. A splendid opportunity therefore exists for some enterprising person to either develop machinery which will reduce the number of imperfect buttons, or to locate a market for the imperfect product now being made.

The change in the parental and the community attitude toward the conduct problems of children is marked. Although the juvenile-court movement has been well under way in the United States for a quarter of a century, the old conceptions of punishment as a preventive and of justice as equality of treatment have died slowly. Under the new legal theory of the juvenile court, impartial procedure is made possible by the use of a different method for each peculiar need. The question is not what treatment to specify for particular types of offenses, but what action is best for individual children. A keen insight into human nature is required of the jurist whose duty it is to prescribe this action for children.

Scientific approach to the conduct problems of the individual child increases the difficulties of administration. Moreover, if the objective is cure, not punishment, it is imperative that the cure be successful. Attempts to prevent or cure delinquency among children have led to study of their physical and mental defects, to investigation of environment for causes or maladjustment, and to experiments in individual or group training during the pre-school period. However, necessary resources are still lacking for study and treatment of the great majority of children who pass through our courts and are committed to correctional institutions.

Dear Mr. Stanley:

Reference is made to your communication dated July 29, 1936, to which you attach a suggestion concerning the inclusion on Bureau mailing lists of the unlisted telephone numbers of Field Offices and the telephone numbers of No. 1 men.

This is to advise you that the Bureau believes such a practice would be undesirable. It is not believed that the unlisted telephone numbers of the various offices should be circularized, and it is not believed that telephone numbers of the No. 1 men should be included on any mailing list due to changes of No. 1 man designations in the various Field Offices.

I desire again to thank you for your courtesy in submitting this suggestion for the consideration of the Bureau.

Re: Charles Herbert Stanley-
Clerical employee

In view of the fact that Mr. Francis C. Leonard, presently assigned to the Research Division, has just received an appointment as a Special Agent of the Bureau and is to enter the class of new agents starting October 19, 1936, it is recommended that Mr. Charles Herbert Stanley, formerly of the Research Division, presently assigned to Recording Section, be transferred to this Division to take the place to be vacated by Mr. Leonard.

Mr. Stanley was formerly assigned to assist Mr. Leonard with the clerical work in and about the Bureau Library and it is believed that he would be particularly fitted to carry on Mr. Leonard's work.

If the foregoing recommendation is approved, it is requested that Mr. Stanley be transferred at once in order that Mr. Leonard may assist him in his new duties during the remainder of this week.

Re:
Clerk
Washington Field Division.

C. H. Hottel

This employee entered the Bureau's service under date of December 10, 1934, and on August 19, 1935, was transferred to the Washington Field Division. His entire file was briefed under date of December 29, 1936 (serial 43).

As the result of a letter dated December 9, 1936, received from Special Agent in Charge Hottel stating that this employee seemed to be slow and did not possess very much initiative and was not aggressive, Mr. Hottel was requested under date of December 29 to submit a further report concerning his capabilities at the expiration of thirty days.

A letter has now been received dated January 29 stating he has talked with and informed him that his work was unsatisfactory and that he would have to show a decided improvement and that a further report would be submitted to the Bureau concerning his work.

Mr. Hottel states this employee has shown some improvement and believes he is putting forth his best efforts, but that he believes he is better suited for some other position in the Bureau and mentions the Files and Mechanical Sections where the work is more of a routine nature instead of his present work which requires initiative, foresight and a certain amount of intelligence. He states he believes is loyal to the Bureau; that he has not been in the best of health; is presently attending law school with the hope of eventually becoming a Special Agent.

Mr. Hottel points out that the work in the Chief Clerk's office of the Washington Field Division has increased tremendously and further states that in view of the fact that is attending law school no overtime is performed.

RE: CHARLES H. STANLEY
CLERK
THIRTY DAY EFFICIENCY REPORT.

Dear Sir:

In compliance with Section 34 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations, it is incumbent upon me at this time to submit a thirty day efficiency report on the above employee.

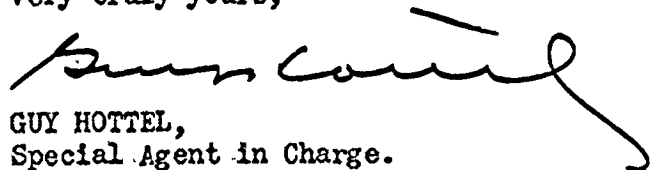

Mr. Stanley possesses a fair personality; is neat in his appearance and has a satisfactory approach. He performs overtime work, when necessary and is amenable to discipline.

This employee has had previous experience in a field office division and his work as a clerk at this office was not new to him. I have found this employee to be a conscientious worker, performing his duties with a satisfactory degree of speed.

Mr. Stanley at the present time is attending evening classes at the Columbus Law University.

The work of this employee since he has been attached to this office has been satisfactory; however, judging from the manner in which he discharges his duties, it is my opinion, that he will always be a clerk.

Very truly yours,

GUY HOTTEL,
Special Agent in Charge.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

RE: RICHMOND OFFICE

SAC Berens called me this morning and stated that the walls of the Richmond office have not as yet been painted, but that all of the necessary painting would be completed in about two days. He stated that the furniture and other equipment for which arrangements were made are satisfactory and he believes the office will look O. K.

Mr. Berens wanted to know whether he could not start looking around for a night typist. I mentioned the fact that C. H. Stanley, clerk in the Washington field office, had stated that he desired to go to Richmond. Mr. Berens stated that Stanley had checked the school facilities in Richmond and found that he could not continue his education in that city and for that reason does not desire to be considered further for such a transfer. I pointed out that in view of this fact, the Bureau would authorize his getting a night typist to be employed temporarily with a view to permanent appointment.

Mr. Berens advised me that he arrived in Richmond at 6:00 p.m. last evening and that Miss Irene Jones arrived there at 1:20 p.m. this morning. They are both staying at the Richmond Hotel at the present time, although Miss Jones intends to secure transfer authority to more permanent quarters today. Mr. Berens' home telephone number at the present time is 3-2731. The entrance number for the Richmond office is Room 601, Richmond Trust Building, the listed telephone number being 2-6464.

Dear Mr. Hottel:

In connection with the establishment of the Field Office at Richmond, Virginia, the Bureau desires that Mr. C. H. The transfer of Miss Ebert should be effected upon the termination of her annual leave. Mr. Stanley should proceed to Richmond on or about May 15, 1937.

You are further directed to instruct Miss Irene Jones to report to Special Agent in Charge A. G. Berens, 401 Richmond Trust Building, Richmond, Virginia, at 9 A.M., April 19, 1937, for thirty days assignment.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

SAC Berens called me from Richmond at 10:30 this morning and stated that with reference to the clerical employees, he was endeavoring to secure a boy for night typist work and an additional stenographer for day work. He wanted to know whether to give any further consideration to C. H. Stanley. I advised him that he should endeavor to secure an additional male employee for his office. In the event he is successful in securing these employees, he will have two stenographers and one night typist. He is of the opinion that another stenographer who can be broken in to handle Chief Clerk's work should be assigned to the Richmond office. I informed him that I would secure your reaction to this request.

SAC Berens stated that he was forwarding to the Bureau several test papers of applicants interviewed by him; and that he had one male applicant and one female applicant who he believed would be very good. I advised him to send in the necessary papers at the earliest possible date.

He also wanted to know whether it was necessary that a firearms contract be executed at the present time. I advised him that it would be all right to let this contract be held in abeyance for the time being.

He is going to have the buzzer system installed by a commercial company in Richmond in view of the fact that that company can install it at a rate cheaper than the telephone company would install it. He advised that the private unlisted telephone for the use of the Bureau is number 25436 and the unlisted telephone for use of the Agents of the Richmond office is number 25361.

He is also endeavoring to secure gasoline under the Interior Department contract for the State of Virginia.

In view of the information contained herein, no reply is being made to the personal and confidential communication received from SAC Hottel of the Washington field office under date of April 19, 1937, concerning the personnel of that office.

Respectfully,

W. R. Glavin.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter of April 17, 1937 in connection with the establishment of the Field Office at Richmond, Virginia, in which you desire that Mr. C. H. Stanley and Miss Ernestine Ebert be transferred from the Washington Field Division to the Richmond Field Division.

This is to inform you that Miss Ebert has been transferred to the Seat of Government, and reported to Mr. Tamm for assignment at 9:00 A.M., Saturday, April 17, 1937. Accordingly, she should be instructed by the Bureau to report to Richmond upon the termination of her annual leave.

Mr. Stanley has advised me that he has made inquiries at the various Schools located in Richmond, Virginia and has ascertained that he will be unable to attend any night schools there; accordingly, he is desirous of withdrawing his transfer to the Richmond Division.

Miss Irene Jones reported to Special Agent in Charge A. G. Berens at 9 A.M., April 19, 1937, for thirty days assignment. It is my understanding that Miss Jones will be on per diem during this period.

From the oldest written records, we find that personal identification has long been in use. When no other method of identification was known, convicts and slaves were given a particular mark which plainly showed their class. A few hundred years ago the best police forces hired men with good memories who tried to remember the faces of persons charged with crimes so as to be able to recognize them later. Later on, men whose duty it was to preserve law and order began employing better methods of recognizing persons and kept files containing the pictures of thousands of criminals. The identification of such persons forms a large part of the work of preventing and reducing crime. Indeed it is not only the most important means of obtaining the arrest of these persons but it also insures the more certain and just punishment of the guilty. The man who often breaks the law and who has already been convicted of several crimes deserves more severe punishment than the beginner in crime. Only when the past records of men under trial can be fully known, however, can greater punishments be justly given. In most cases, we can not know that a man is a hardened criminal except by means of careful identification.

Never before in the history of the country has the subject of crime been more widely discussed than at the present time. The public mind is awakening to the need of checking the criminal in order that life and property may remain reasonably safe. For a long time the criminal has been encouraged by the indifference of the public to ineffective methods of investigation and prevention of crime. Not only has the criminal widened the field of his attack with great boldness and speed, but he has also organized his work to make it more efficient and profitable. If law and order are to control crime, they must deal quickly and surely with this menace. In the past the public has too often been guilty of considering the criminal a romantic figure and of making him the object of public sympathy. One of the first steps which must be taken is the creation of a sound public attitude towards crime and criminals. Upon this step largely will rest the success or failure of the attempt to reduce crime in this country to the lowest possible level. More than a change in the attitude of the public is needed to solve the problem, however, for changes both in police methods and in the law are essential. The wider use of the methods already known to the police agencies of the various countries would in itself constitute a severe blow to crime.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter dated June 23, 1937 advising me that Mr. Tamm of the Bureau had recently instructed Special Agent F. M. Hickey of this Office to carefully check the records of this Office for the purpose of ascertaining whether there was contained in this Office any original exhibits or documents which had been obtained during the course of the Bureau's investigation of the case entitled [redacted] et al; that a search had been made and Agent Hickey subsequently informed Mr. Tamm that the files in this Office did not contain any original exhibits in this case and that the file had been transmitted to the Richmond Field Division; that a further search was later made at which time there were located two large envelopes containing a number of original documents and records.

I requested Special Agent Hickey to submit me a memorandum as to the above. His memorandum is attached hereto.

I have brought to the attention of Agent Hickey and Mr. Charles Stanley, a Clerk in this Office, the inexcusable carelessness in not finding the exhibits in this case when originally requested by Mr. Tamm. I have advised them that a recurrence of a similar incident will not be tolerated.

I have for acknowledgment your memorandum dated June 18, 1937, with reference to the telephone call from Mr. Tamm of the Bureau concerning the exhibits in this case, and distinctly recall after receiving Mr. Tamm's instructions, I proceeded to the office of the Chief Clerk of the Washington Field Division and instructed Mr. Stanley, who was on duty at the time, to make a thorough search for the purpose of locating any exhibits in the above case.

Mr. Stanley stated that he had made a thorough search of the files and the exhibits had been sent to the Richmond Field Division, and he was unable to locate any exhibits in this case. The fact that no exhibits could be located by Mr. Stanley, the clerk on duty, was communicated to Mr. Tamm.

Your memorandum states that a search of the exhibit file in this office discloses that the exhibits had never been sent to Richmond. In connection therewith, I am inclined to believe that a thorough search was not made by the clerk on duty for these exhibits at the time of Mr. Tamm's telephone call, however, I emphasized the necessity of making a thorough search at the time I received the telephone call from Mr. Tamm.

About forty species of the fresh-water clams found in this country are used in the manufacture of buttons and novelties. The commercial varieties are found chiefly in flowing waters derived from the drainage of limestone regions, including most branches of the Mississippi and some streams of the Great Lakes and Gulf drainages. These rivers contain shells which have the pearly white or iridescent lining so desirable in the manufacture of buttons. These shells are of the right thickness and size for cutting, producing pearl buttons of the highest grade extensively used to-day. The utilization of these clam shells has become an important industry involving large investments in special machinery for making buttons.

Until recently, manufacturers obtained profits from the sale of discolored and other imperfect buttons as well as from the sale of their perfect products. Now, however, serious competition has sprung up through the importation of cheap glass buttons, which are sold at such low prices that they are being widely used on cheap garments. The effect has been that most of the inexpensive pearl buttons produced in domestic plants have found no buyers; thus our manufacturers now have a market for only their finer products. A splendid opportunity therefore exists for some enterprising person to either develop machinery which will reduce the number of imperfect buttons, or to locate a market for the imperfect product now being made.

The change in the parental and the community attitude toward the conduct problems of children is marked. Although the juvenile-court movement has been well under way in the United States for a quarter of a century, the old conceptions of punishment as a preventive and of justice as equality of treatment have died slowly. Under the new legal theory of the juvenile court, impartial procedure is made possible by the use of a different method for each peculiar need. The question is not what treatment to specify for particular types of offenses, but what action is best for individual children. A keen insight into human nature is required of the jurist whose duty it is to prescribe this action for children.

Scientific approach to the conduct problems of the individual child increases the difficulties of administration. Moreover, if the objective is cure, not punishment, it is imperative that the cure be successful. Attempts to prevent or cure delinquency among children have led to study of their physical and mental defects, to investigation of environment for causes of maladjustment, and to experiments in individual or group training during the pre-school period. However, necessary resources are still lacking for study and treatment of the great majority of children who pass through our courts and are committed to correctional institutions.

C. H. Stanley,
October 21, 1937.

The purpose of this study is twofold. (1) Since the Chinese are now residing in a number of countries, the following questions are of interest: Why and how have they gone there? What is the degree of their economic prosperity and social adaptation in their new environments? In what ways and to what extent have they benefited themselves, their fatherland and their adopted countries? An attempt is here made to answer these queries, at least in part. (2) China is undergoing a stupendous social and political change which has brought to the fore, in greater and greater degree, the population problem. A high birth rate has been accompanied by a high death rate and infant mortality. Unsatisfactory socio-economic conditions have caused low wages, disease, poverty, and misery. In great numbers the needy have been forced out of the country. In this same the outflow of the emigrants has arisen from the pressure of the home population. Wherever they have gone, clashes with other racial groups have been frequent. Inasmuch as the pressure of population is not likely to diminish in the immediate future, further conflicts are distinctly possible. The amelioration of the social and economic conditions in China are therefore desirable in order to insure social progress and promote international good will.

With these views in mind, inquiry has been made into the conditions of the Chinese in important countries with reference to certain specific problems. A few countries have been chosen on the following more or less arbitrary grounds. First, the countries must lie within the Eastern Hemisphere as far as the mid-Pacific. Second, the maximum number of the Chinese in each country must at some time have reached 50,000 or more. The scope of this study therefore narrows down to an account of the Chinese in Formosa, Dutch East Indies, British Malakka, the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, the Transvaal, and France (during the World War).

The main inquiries of this study resolve themselves into three major divisions: Historic, social, and economic. The historic phase includes important conflicts, and the political and civil relations between China and the particular country to which the emigrants have gone. In tracing these events, the plan has been to terminate the account with the last significant clash whereby the Chinese either gained or lost socio-economic importance in their adopted country. In Java, for example, the failure of the Chinese revolt of 1740 led to the Dutch ascendancy in commerce and politics. Likewise, historic events in the Philippines have been outlined up to the third massacre of the Chinese by the Spaniards. Under the economic phase have been included the main occupations of the Chinese, and their activities in industry, commerce, and agriculture.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Mr. Stanley is one of the clerks assigned to this Office and is a satisfactory employee. He displays good common sense in the discharge of his duties, is a hard worker, possesses a certain amount of initiative and force. Since the last efficiency report was submitted on this employee, it can be stated that he has shown a great improvement in the performance of his work.

Mr. Stanley takes an interest in his work and can be found at the office nearly every morning at eight o'clock and works until the last minute before going to school in the evening. He puts in overtime work on Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Mr. Stanley is an excellent typist and I believe that he should be encouraged to qualify as a stenographer as he takes shorthand quite fluently. This employee has a pleasing personality, is loyal to the Bureau and amenable to discipline.

Mr. Stanley has averaged 51 hours per month overtime which is nearly twice the amount performed by the clerical employees of this Office.

C. H. Stanley,

It is self-evident that while considerations as to the available supply of labor and accessibility to a market may determine when a mine shall be opened, once it is opened the work must be done on the spot, and when the coal in that place has been mined, work there comes to an end and the workers must go elsewhere. Because of these facts it follows (1) that the natural surroundings of the mine workers' homes vary as widely as the location of the coal deposits; (2) that frequently these mine workers must live far from any normal center of population; and (3) that to a great extent—greater probably than in any other occupation in the United States—they are dependent on their employers, not only for the conditions under which they work but also for the character of the houses in which they live and for the resources and atmosphere of the community of which they are a part. In respect to physical comfort, educational advantages, and protection of health, the mine worker's family in a company town may be better off or worse off than the average workman's family in town or city; but whether better or worse, the coal-mine operator is chiefly responsible, for there is relatively little the mine worker and his family can do to improve conditions.

Workers in bituminous coal mines, who number nearly 600,000, are scattered over 28 States, but 70 per cent of them are in a 900-mile strip extending from Northern Pennsylvania, through Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, and Tennessee, to Central Alabama; 20 per cent are in the States of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Kansas; and the majority of the remaining 10 per cent are in the Rocky Mountain Region and on the Pacific Coast. The miners in Pennsylvania and the Middle West live for the most part in or near established communities, but in most of the other bituminous mining sections the miners' homes are frequently situated in narrow gorges or in creek beds, on steep mountain sides, or in generally inaccessible places, and often at considerable distances from any town or city. The bituminous workers constitute 80 percent of the 732,441 "coal-mine operatives" in the country.

In the anthracite field about 70 per cent of the mine workers live in incorporated communities of 2,500 or over. As a result of the fact that such a large proportion of anthracite workers live in self-governing communities, the grievances and disturbances arising out of company stores, company houses, company-controlled communities, and "closed communities," with their accompanying restriction or suppression of civic rights, which are common in the bituminous fields, are practically absent in the anthracite fields.

Mr. Stanley is Assistant to the Chief Clerk in this Division. He is a steady and conscientious worker, possessing a determined ambition to go further in the service of the FBI. He possesses a good knowledge of his duties, is tolerant in requests made of him and is liked by the entire personnel of this Office. Mr. Stanley possesses an inevitable smile which appears at the slightest provocation and reflects his true personality. Mr. Stanley presents a neat appearance, is well mannered and has a pleasing personality. He endeavors to assist whenever possible. He is one of the hardest workers I have in this Office, arriving at about 8:00 A.M. and working until the last minute before leaving to attend law school. It has been noted that on numerous occasions he will miss school in order to catch up in his work.

Mr. Stanley is an excellent typist, has a working knowledge of shorthand and is amenable to discipline.

His average overtime per month was 46 hours which is above the average for the other clerical employees.

C. H. Stanley,
July 14, 1938.

In a comparison of the relative equipment and conduct of the school systems of the world it is generally admitted that the United States ranks high. According to the latest figures available, the value of school property in the United States amounted in 1924 to $3,744,780,814, while the average value of school property per pupil enrolled amounted in the same year to $154. Necessarily the rapid growth of the school system has been attended also by rapid progress on the part of manufacturers of school supplies and equipment. Lately competition has become so keen in the domestic market that many manufacturers of this class of goods have begun sales campaigns in foreign countries. The largest potential markets for school furniture and equipment--as in the case of furniture in general--is in Latin America, where the school systems are rapidly being remodeled and modernized, principally along the lines found in the United States. There is a slight, though steady, increase in the amount of school and church furniture, and maps and charts, exported from the United States to Central and South America for the three-year period 1923 to 1925.

Direct supervision of the national schools of the Republic of Panama is in the hands of the Secretary of Public Instruction, who is a member of the President's Cabinet of the Federal Government. The Secretary of Public Instruction also exercises a certain amount of control over all educational institutions of a private character in the territory of the Republic. The Panama Canal has an excellent school system, including a high-school course based on the best American educational standards for training the children of American employees and others residing in the Canal Zone. Many of the features of the Panama Canal Zone school system have been adopted by the Department of Public Instruction of the Panaman Government. In comparison with other Latin American countries, Panama has a good school system, and there are excellent prospects for its further improvement in the near future.

In the past three years school furniture exported from the United States to South America has more than doubled in value. In 1923, school and church furniture valued at $18,512 was exported to the countries of South America, while in 1925 exports of this commodity were worth $48,494. Of this amount, Colombia proved the largest purchaser, taking $4,454 in 1923 and $13,614 in 1925. The Colombian schools, however, are inadequate for the population, and school attendance is not compulsory. Furthermore, the schools in the small cities are inadequately furnished with school supplies. There is a growing movement to improve the educational facilities of the country and the introduction from time to time of improved and modern equipment may be confidently anticipated.

This is my thirty-day report on the above employee who has been assigned to the Chief Clerk's Office as a Movement Clerk since October 17, 1938.

Mr. Stanley has taken the usual length of time to become acquainted with his duties and although he is not outstanding as to speed, his work has been found accurate and he has applied himself diligently to his present assignment. MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

Mr. Charles Herbert Stanley, a Movement Clerk assigned to the Chief Clerk's Office, was instructed by the writer to report to Mr. Tamm this morning for a trial as a clerical employee in Mr. Tamm's office, Mr. Tamm having approved the recommendation of Stanley. This will leave a vacancy in the Movement Clerk's Section which needs to be filled immediately and it is, therefore, recommended that Mr. William D. Murdock, the Night Mail Clerk, be utilized to replace Mr. Stanley. In the event Mr. Stanley's services are found satisfactory in Mr. Tamm's office and he is retained there permanently and in the event Mr. Murdock's services are found satisfactory as a Movement Clerk, a recommendation will be made to promote Mr. Murdock from his present grade and salary of Caf-2 at $1440 per annum to Caf-3 at $1620 per annum.

Mr. Murdock's services have been of a high quality in the Communications Section and he has been in the employ of this Bureau since August 16, 1937. I am of the opinion he can satisfactorily handle the duties of a Movement Clerk and warrants consideration for a trial.

This will necessitate a change in the Mail Room and it is recommended that Robert C. Gresham, the present Assistant Mail Clerk who is on duty from 4:30 P. M. to Midnight, be tried as Mail Clerk. This will involve no change in grade or salary.

It is further recommended that Thomas H. Thornton, who is presently assigned to the Communications Section as an Assistant Teletype Operator and who is on duty from 4:30 P. M. to Midnight, be shifted to the position of Assistant Mail Clerk. This will likewise involve no change in grade or salary.

Mr. Charles F. Douglas, who is presently assigned to the Communications Section, has been learning the teletype and switchboard duties which he has mastered fairly well at the present time. It is believed that he can qualify as an Assistant Teletype Operator on the 4:30 P. M. to Midnight shift to replace Mr. Thornton, and it is recommended that he be given a trial. This will likewise involve no change in grade or salary.

Subject to your approval the above changes will be made immediately and no final recommendation will be made until it is known definitely that the persons referred to above can satisfactorily handle their new duties.

Respectfully,

A. H. Crowl

With reference to John B. O'Leary, you will recall that he was physically disqualified when first afforded the Special Agent examination. He has since been certified for strenuous physical exertion by the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Concerning [redacted] he was unfavorably reported on in the past due to personal appearance. He has picked up a little weight, has taken public speaking, and impresses me more favorably at this time. MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

Mr. Charles H. Stanley has completed a thirty-day trial in Mr. T. A. Tamm's Office as a Clerical employee. Mr. Tamm advised the writer on April 15, 1939 that Mr. Stanley's services have been found satisfactory and, accordingly, it is recommended that he be permanently assigned to Mr. Tamm's office.

Mr. William O. Murdock, the Night Mail Clerk, has been employed during the past thirty days as a Movement Clerk to replace Mr. Stanley. His services have been found entirely satisfactory and he would be recommended to replace Mr. Stanley if it were not for the fact that Mr. George L. Sheppard, the Day Mail Clerk, is being recommended for the position of Special Agent for the May 1st class. The writer does not believe any other Bureau employee is qualified to replace Mr. Sheppard but Mr. Murdock and, therefore, it is recommended that he be transferred as of May 1st to the position of Mail Clerk in grade Caf-3 at $1620 per annum.

This will, of course, leave the position of Movement Clerk vacant, which position must be filled. It is recommended that this vacancy be filled by Mr. Robert C. Gresham who is presently assigned to the Communications Section as a Night Mail Clerk. Mr. Gresham who is presently in grade Caf-2 at $1440 has been in the Bureau's service since June 20, 1938. His services have been entirely satisfactory during the period he has been employed, and I am of the opinion he would rapidly pick up the work of Movement Clerk.

This will leave the position of Night Mail Clerk vacant and it is recommended that Mr. John W. Beger, a Messenger, be given a thirty-day trial in that position. Mr. Beger entered on duty in this Bureau's service on October 20, 1938. His services have been entirely satisfactory during this period and I believe he can satisfactorily handle the position of Night Mail Clerk with training.

In the event these recommendations are approved and the services of Messrs. Gresham and Beger found satisfactory, at the conclusion of thirty days a recommendation will be made to promote Mr. Gresham to grade Caf-3 at $1620 per annum and Mr. Beger to grade Caf-2 at $1440 per annum.

Respectfully,

A. E. Crowl

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. EGAN

RE: CHARLES H. STANLEY -
Special Agent Applicant

This applicant interviewed the writer in the lobby of the Hotel Raleigh on April 15, 1939, in connection with the usual fictitious applicant interview required of Special Agent applicants.

Mr. Stanley located the writer through the aid of a bell-boy, whom he properly tipped. He made a very good approach and was a fine appearing young man, his dress being very neat and in good taste. His personality, poise and assurance are average and it was also noted that he was extremely calm throughout the interview, showing no signs of nervousness. His questions showed that he had planned his interview before hand since they were logical and relevant to the investigation being made. He took notes of information furnished him and conducted the interview with dispatch.

The memorandum submitted by him has been reviewed and contains in detail the information which was furnished by the writer. There appeared to be no errors or misstatements whatsoever.

On the basis of the above Mr. Stanley is rated good on his interview and very good on his memorandum.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. EGAN

RE: JACKSON H. BROWN
APPLICANT SPECIAL AGENT

In accordance with instructions, the writer proceeded to the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C., and interviewed Mr. H. T. O'Connor, who is connected with the Topp Oil and Supply Company, located in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, relative to the above named applicant. Mr. O'Connor stated that applicant attended Marquette Academy High School from 1921 until 1925.

Mr. O'Connor stated that he has known this applicant for a number of years, having attended the Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with applicant. He stated that applicant enrolled in this University in 1925 and received an LLB degree in 1930. Mr. O'Connor advised that he was a classmate of Mr. Brown for the first two years of pre-legal work and that upon the completion of the first two years, Mr. Brown enrolled in the Law School and he, Mr. O'Connor, continued in the academic school.

According to Mr. O'Connor, during the period of this acquaintance Mr. Brown conducted himself in a high-class manner and his grades were above the average. He stated further that although the applicant could not be termed as a "book worm", he seemed to make very good grades without much effort. The writer made inquiries as to whether Mr. O'Connor was in a position to know the applicant's social life and was advised that although he was not associated with applicant in his outside life he knew of no difficulty in which this applicant had ever been involved.

Further inquiry was made as to whether this applicant appeared to have executive ability or might be termed as a leader, and Mr. O'Connor stated that applicant seemed to devote most of his time to the promotion of the fraternity of which he was a member, being the Alpha Chi Fraternity. He stated further that applicant engaged in no athletics of any kind other than a spectator.

Mr. O'Connor stated that he has been in very intimate contact with this applicant for the past five years, the applicant being in the practice of law in Milwaukee. Mr. O'Connor stated that while the applicant is not getting rich as a lawyer, he is making a good income. He stated that during these five years, applicant has not been in any serious trouble but that applicant has a tendency to become intoxicated. He stated that although applicant does not use intoxicants to an excessive degree, he cannot handle his liquor and on numerous occasions he has seen applicant in a very intoxicated condition. He advised further that applicant to his knowledge has not been arrested other than for speeding charges, stating that applicant has a tendency to drive his automobile at a rapid rate of speed.

Further inquiry was made as to applicant's parents and Mr. O'Connor stated that applicants' parents were very high-class, but of very moderate financial circumstances. He stated that applicant's father absolutely uses no intoxicating liquors and is a well thought of citizen.

The writer asked Mr. O'Connor if he was of the opinion that this applicant could be entrusted with confidential matters as the work handled in the FBI is of this nature. Mr. O'Connor stated that he believed applicant to be a person in whom absolute trust could be made, and if he were on such investigations that were of a confidential nature, this applicant would treat such investigations as confidential.

In conclusion, the writer inquired of Mr. O'Connor as to whether, if he were in a position to hire a man of applicant's qualifications, he would feel justified in employing Mr. Brown. To this inquiry Mr. O'Connor stated that he would employ applicant.

Mr. O'Connor furnished the following references, who were well acquainted with the applicant's character and ability:

Dr. John Enright, Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Mr. Elmer Brophy, 1004 N. 38th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

The volume of telephone calls in my office continues to grow at an alarming pace despite the fact that there are recorded only those telephone calls which are of sufficient importance to necessitate a detailed recording. For the past two months two male typists have been devoting their entire time to the transcription of these records. Despite the fact that these employees give generously of their time in voluntarily performing overtime, it is impossible for them to keep up with the volume of calls. For the past ten days or so the services of a third typist have been utilized almost exclusively in the transcription of these records but this procedure results in an accumulation of typing work in the typing pool. Indicative of the volume of calls transcribed it is to be noted that at 7:30 P.M. on Saturday night, May 20, there remained to be transcribed twenty-one telephone calls despite the fact that Messrs. Halter and Stanley had worked voluntarily during the entire afternoon Saturday and until 7:30 P.M. in transcribing records. In view of this situation, it is requested that as soon as it is practicable to do so I be furnished with the services of one additional employee who will be utilized in the transcription of telephone call records.

Dear Sir:

RE: C. H. STANLEY
SPECIAL AGENT

This is my thirty-day report on this Agent as of October 29, 1939.

Agent Stanley makes only a fair first impression. However, he is neat, unassuming and has a personality which is likeable once one becomes acquainted with him. He is full of enthusiasm, industrious, loyal and very dependable.

He has shown a real interest in his work and has profited by suggestions made to him. He has developed surprisingly and I believe that with experience he will be a better than average investigator. He pays attention to details, writes very good rough draft reports, marshalls his facts well and dictates much better than the average new Agent.

Agent Stanley has worked on almost every type of case since being assigned to this office and has handled his assignments satisfactorily, requiring very little supervision, considering his length of service. He is a good automobile driver and qualified in the use of various types of firearms used by the Bureau. I have not heard him testify since he was assigned to this office.

In summing up, it is my opinion that Mr. Stanley has latent ability as an investigator and that with experience he will turn out to be a better than average Agent. It is my opinion that when transfered from the Oklahoma City Field Division it might be advisable to give him experience in the large metropolitan areas in the East. I would not recommend him for administrative consideration at the present time.

C. H. Stanley

Dear Sir:

RE: C. H. STANLEY,
SPECIAL AGENT.

This is my special efficiency report on Agent Stanley which is due since he is departing under transfer for the Philadelphia Field Division.

Mr. Stanley has improved greatly in personal appearance and his personality is developing daily. He has made many friends throughout the field here and has retained his enthusiasm and industrious and loyal attitude toward the Bureau and his work.

He is qualified in the use of firearms, drives an automobile well and has an average knowledge of the technical equipment used by the Bureau. He marshalls his facts well, dictates without undue delay and turns in much better than average rough draft reports. His work requires very little supervision.

Agent Stanley has worked in practically every part of the state of Oklahoma and has handled all types of assignments. He has gained a great deal of experience since coming here and I feel he could be used on any type of investigation.

In final analysis, the development of Agent Stanley has been steady and far more rapid than the development of the average Agent who has been in the service the same length of time. There is no question in my mind but that he will develop into a much better than average Agent. At present I do not feel he has executive ability; however, I do feel with more experience he could be used to advantage in an administrative capacity.

Dear Sir:

From a review of the Bureau's records, it has been determined that the forty-five day special efficiency report due on this employee on March 16, 1940, has not been received from your office as yet.

The Bureau has found it necessary in the past to call delinquencies such as this to your attention and it is not the intention of the Bureau to continue to follow you in matters of this kind in the future. I am sure you are in thorough agreement with me when I state that such reports are absolutely necessary and should be submitted promptly when due so that appropriate action may be taken by the Bureau in the event any administrative action is necessary. It is imperative that this report be received in the Bureau no later than April 5, 1940, together with your explanation as to the reason for the delay in the submission thereof.

RE: FORTY-FIVE DAY EFFICIENCY RATING
ON SPECIAL AGENT C. H. STANLEY

Dear Sir:

Special Agent CHARLES H. STANLEY presents an average appearance and has a fair personality, and, because of his friendliness, I believe he makes a good impression upon people with whom he comes into contact. He is a young man who is extremely conscientious, industrious, and is always attempting to improve his knowledge of the Bureau's work. He has indicated a good knowledge of the duties of his position for a new man, and the work that he has performed has indicated that he is tireless in his efforts and utilizes good judgment in the course of his investigations. He fits well into office routine, and his work needs very little supervision. He is a good dictator, in that he marshals his facts well before dictating. As a typist, he is excellent, and his rough drafts are presented in very good fashion. He handles himself well on the firing line, observing all rules of caution, and shows that he has a good knowledge of the Bureau's firearms. I believe that he would be a dependable Agent in a dangerous assignment. He is a good automobile driver and has an average knowledge of the Bureau's technical equipment. I have not had an opportunity to observe this Agent testify.

The services of this Agent have been entirely satisfactory, and his rating is Good-Minus.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the Bureau's letter of April 2, 1940, re C. H. STANLEY, Special Agent, calling my attention to my delinquency in not submitting a forty-five day efficiency report, due on this Agent, on March 16, 1940.

Through inadvertency, my tickler on this report was not reached on March 16th, and I intended to submit an efficiency report on Agent Stanley when I submitted other efficiency ratings, but, due to other emergency matters, the same was postponed.

The Bureau may rest assured that these matters will be given proper attention in the future.

Inasmuch as the Bureau asked for a report on Agent Stanley on April 5th, I must advise that I left the district on the evening of April 3rd and did not receive this letter until April 5th, when an efficiency rating was promptly submitted.

SAC Sears reports he has an average appearance, a good personality, is conscientious, industrious, performs much overtime, uses good judgment, is steadily developing, has a good knowledge of firearms, is suitable for dangerous assignments, but does not possess administrative ability.

In May, 1940 at the conclusion of an inservice course Mr. Hince stated he presented a rather good personal appearance, is interested, attentive, but he could see no executive qualifications.

In April, 1940 SAC Sears reported favorably on him stating his services had been entirely satisfactory.

In January, 1940 SAC Andersen reported his development had been steady and far more rapid than the average new agent. In November, 1939 Anderson also reported favorably on him.

At the conclusion of his training period in October, 1939 Mr. Clegg reported he had a fairly good personal appearance, was alert, intelligent, capable in practical work, and should develop rapidly.

RECOMMENDATION - I recommend an increase of $100.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Special Agent STANLEY presents an average appearance and has a good personality. I have noticed considerable improvement in the development of this agent's personality during the past thirty days. He is friendly and I believe he makes a good impression upon people with whom he comes in contact.

Mr. STANLEY is a young man, who is extremely conscientious, industrious and always attempting to improve his knowledge of the Bureau's work. He has a good knowledge of the duties of his position and the work that he has performed has indicated that he is tireless in his efforts in that he performs numerous hours of voluntary overtime. He is a hard worker and has utilized good judgment in the course of his investigations. He fits well into office routine and his work needs very little supervision. He marshals his facts well prior to dictation and his dictation is considered Good to Very Good. As a typist he is excellent and his rough drafts are presented in neat form.

Agent STANLEY is steadily developing and is now able to handle investigations of a more involved nature. He handles himself well on the firing line, observing all rules of caution and shows that he has a good knowledge of the Bureau's firearms; his scores being above average. I believe that he would be a dependable agent in a dangerous assignment. He is a good automobile driver and has a good knowledge of the Bureau's technical equipment. An opportunity has not presented itself to observe him testify.

The services of this agent have been entirely satisfactory. Agent STANLEY does not possess administrative or executive ability.

Special Agent in Charge
New York, New York

Dear Sir:

The records of the Bureau fail to reveal that you have submitted forty-five day efficiency reports on the following Special Agents assigned to the New York Field Division:

Abraham, J. L.	Alsup, J. H.
Cherlin, J. A.	Peterson, E. H.
Holtzman, J. A.	Wells, C. H.
Johnson, J. L.	Small, H. H.
Johnson, J. L.	Wentley, J. H.
Thompson, C. L.

The Bureau is at a loss to understand why this number of reports should be delinquent from your office, since no advice has been received from you concerning any of them. It is therefore desired that you give these reports your immediate attention and advise the Bureau as to the reason for their delay.

Very truly yours,

RE: SPECIAL AGENT C. H. STANLEY

Dear Sir:

The following constitutes my forty-five day efficiency report regarding the above named Agent, who reported for duty at this office on August 7, 1940:

This Agent is of good build, dresses with good taste, and presents a nice appearance. He could be a little more forceful and aggressive, and it is suggested that he try to improve along these lines during the course of his work and contacts generally. I believe that further experience in this office will help develop him along these lines.

His work here has been primarily on applicant matters, which he has handled with despatch, and his work and reports generally have required less than average supervision. He is conscientious, accepts his assignments in a very willing manner, performs overtime with goodspirit, and is developing very well generally.

He handles firearms well, is amenable to discipline, and is qualified for use on raids and related matters. I have not observed his driving ability, nor has he had an opportunity to testify since being in this district.

I feel that Agent Stanley is conscientious and loyal to the Bureau, is interested in doing his best, and regard him as a good Agent. As yet I have failed to observe any latent administrative or executive ability of this Agent.

Dear Sir:

Regarding your communication of October 5, 1940, in connection with the failure of this office to submit efficiency reports on a number of Special Agents, please be advised that all of the Agents listed therein with the exception of Agents Sella, Stanley, and Assistant Agent in Charge R. A. Guerin, are assigned to the special squad working on the Ducase. Mr. Donegan informs me that efficiency reports were gotten up and sent out to Assistant Director E. J. Connelley in San Francisco for signature, hence they should be received at the Bureau in the immediate future.

Some days ago I submitted efficiency reports regarding Agents Sella and Stanley. I am submitting today an efficiency report regarding Assistant Special Agent in Charge R. A. Guerin. I have not submitted a report regarding Mr. Guerin prior to this time since I did not believe it necessary, due to the fact that he is rated as Assistant Agent in Charge rather than an Agent or a Supervisor.

Very truly yours,

B. E. SACKETT

RE: C. H. STANLEY, SPECIAL AGENT
Special Efficiency Report.

Dear Sir:

The following constitutes my special efficiency report regarding the above employee.

The Agent is of good build, presents a good appearance, and dresses neatly. He has a nice personality, however at times his actions were noted to be somewhat youthful. He should exert more effort to handle himself generally in a more dignified and mature manner.

He possesses a good knowledge of the Bureau's work and policies, is a willing, hard worker, and exercises good judgment in his assignments.

He handles firearms well, and should be qualified for hazardous assignments. He drives an automobile well. To date he has not shown any indication of possessing supervisory, administrative, or executive ability.

All in all, I regard this Agent's work, progress and status as entirely satisfactory, and consider him to be a loyal, conscientious and desirable Bureau employee.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES H. STANLEY

I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, has been designated by the President to take charge of investigative work in matters relating to espionage, sabotage and violations of the neutrality regulations. This Bureau is also charged with the duty of investigating other matters bearing upon the maintenance of the internal security of the United States. The duties thus imposed upon this Bureau constitute a vital function in the national defense program of this country. At the present time this Bureau is required by Act of Congress to expand its personnel in order effectively to discharge the important duties devolving upon it.

Charles H. Stanley is a trained Special Agent and has been continuously employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation since June 24, 1935. He has been employed as a Special Agent since June 26, 1939. He cannot be replaced satisfactorily because of the shortage of persons with his qualifications and experience in such activity, and his removal for induction would cause material loss of effectiveness in the conduct of the national defense work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Extreme difficulty is being experienced at present in obtaining a sufficient number of qualified applicants to take care of the increasing expansion of this Bureau and it is impossible to consider a replacement of any individual for this reason. Turnover of personnel is extremely detrimental to efficiency, as trained and experienced members of the staff, such as Charles H. Stanley, must form the nucleus of the expanded staff which this Bureau must recruit in order to fulfill its function.
